Position/Title:

Associate Creative Director

Details:

At Eagle Creative, we believe in telling a true story every time. Our people embody a spirit of reliability and authenticity both in the work they do, and in their everyday actions - whether it's being honest with a co-worker when their idea needs improvement, explaining to a client why you'd like to go a different direction, or admitting to the boss that it was you who snuck into her office and used the last Keurig K cup. Don't worry - she's very forgiving.

As part of the Eagle Creative team, you will be part of a lean, mean (we're actually pretty nice), creative machine. We need an Associate Creative Director who is a thinker AND a doer. The ideal addition to our agency will be able to bring creative ideas and solutions to the table and then help execute the plan.

Please attach portfolio of work and be prepared to talk about your creative philosophy and your process.

This position is located in St. Joseph, Missouri and some travel is required.
