

Box 789 • Norfolk, Nebraska 68702-0789

November 9, 2017

Position/Title: Farm Director/News Associate

The nation's oldest single family owned radio station is seeking its next Farm Director for our family of stations. Our stations are passionate about what makes our local economy tick—agriculture. The ideal candidate is someone motivated and passionate about agriculture, and providing producers with the information they need to run their operations and make daily decisions. He/she will need to have at least some broadcast/ editing experience. Our stations value people first, and boast a family friendly culture. This position can be a launch pad for a career in Farm/News broadcasting, or an opportunity to continue a great career.

This candidate would also be a person who can foster relationships within our agricultural and greater community. Our next Farm Director should be comfortable in communicating across multiple media platforms. Experience with Video is a plus.

Vacancy Type: Full Time Salary: Salary will be commensurate with experience and talent. Closing Date: 12/1/2017 City: Norfolk - 68701 State: Nebraska Experience: The perfect candidate will possess an agricultural background. We will train the right candidate.

Requirements: 1. The ability to interview industry experts, government officials, and news makers. 2. News writing, gathering, and anchoring skills. The ability to anchor news and market updates. Strong social & digital media skills are a must. Experience with video a plus. 3. Willing to travel to cover meetings and hearings. 4. Experience with basic audio software. We use Prophet NextGen.

Additional: WJAG Inc. has an excellent benefit package including health insurance and 401 K. We are very progressive in encouraging healthy lifestyles and provide quarterly health checks. WJAG Inc. is an equal opportunity employer. Contact: Qualified candidates should send their resume, air checks, and other material to jeffrey@wjag.com. Jeffrey Steffen, General Manager.