Position/Title:
Farm Director

Details:

KFEQ is looking for an energetic, driven broadcaster to become the next legendary farm director of a legacy agricultural station which just celebrated its 100th anniversary.

KFEQ has a rich farm broadcasting history, with former farm directors such as Missouri Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame Inductee Gene Millard and current National Association of Farm Broadcasting Executive Director Tom Brand.

The KFEQ farm director must be able to communicate commodity markets and explain market trends in an authoritative and conversational manner. The farm director is expected to report on local and regional agricultural news as well as explain how national events impact farmers and ranchers in northwest Missouri, northeast Kansas, southeast Nebraska, and southwest Iowa, known affectionately as the Midland Empire.

We need originality, creativity, and initiative. We want someone who will work the phones and get out in the fields to do interviews and gather local stories. We seek a team player who will work well with the KFEQ news team.

Vacancy Type:
Full Time

Salary:
$35k-$45k; compensation is commensurate with experience. Eagle Communications offers a competitive benefits package, which includes health insurance, 401(k), paid vacation, and an employee stock ownership plan.

Date Posted:

Experience:

The right candidate must have...

- ...an education in broadcasting and communications.
- ...experience as a farm broadcaster.
- ...the ability to write clearly and concisely for broadcast and webposts.
- ...the skill to conduct long-form interviews for broadcast and our website.
- ...the flexibility to handle duties in studio and out in the field, whether on the farm or at a convention.
- ...the energy and desire to cut through the clutter and get to the essence of the story and effectively communicate that to our audience.
- ...the demeanor necessary to convey professionalism in public.

Requirements:

We need someone with enthusiasm and initiative to take ownership of this position and make KFEQ programming invaluable to the vast Midland Empire farm audience.

Additional Information:

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. The selected candidate will be required to pass a criminal history background check and motor vehicle check. Eagle Communications is an employee-owned company and an EEO employer.
