

Do you love Agribusiness as much as you love Television? If so, then RFD-TV has the perfect opportunity for you to do your best work in a very special environment – in one of the nation’s great cities, Nashville. We’re looking for a true renaissance person – with outstanding breadth of knowledge spanning all the issues that affect the work of the people who feed America, coupled with great understanding of the agricultural commodities markets. As a natural and experienced leader, you will manage the day-to-day execution of an editorial vision that provides our audience with the best possible mix of news covering farming, ranching, and policy issues that affect agribusiness.

This is a senior editorial position with responsibility not only for producing 5 ½ hours of stellar content, but for sustaining continuous improvement and enhancement, as well as managing the editorial team. The successful candidate will have an outstanding track record of excellence in editorial and production, showcasing stellar writing and content judgment. You will jump to the head of the pack if you combine this knowledge with background in television production.

Responsibilities:

- Drive editorial content for daily newscasts
- Lead production of relevant, timely, topical and creative news storytelling
