

Western Kansas Broadcast Center in Garden City, Kansas, has an opening for a farm broadcaster who will produce the KBUF Morning Show.

KBUF 1030 AM/107.1 FM is the ag leader in western Kansas and also owns and operates The Ag Network, one of the largest ag networks in the Midwest, with over 33 affiliate stations and growing.

It is an ideal starter position that includes training and great opportunity for anyone who wants to get a start in ag broadcasting. Multimedia experience is a plus. This is a competitive salaried position with full benefits, including 401K. This opportunity is located in the heart of cattle feeding country: Garden City, Kansas.

If interested, please send your resume to Ken Rahjes, director of agricultural programming, at kenrahjes@gmail.com or call/text 785/302-8416.
